JUDGE'S ADMISSIONS HELP FRANK'S CHANCE State Labor Head to Pass on Strikers Case

WOMEN JOIN WALK-OUT AT MILL

Union Organized Among Strikers.
Police Propose Only to Pre-serve Order.

Strikers at the Pankhurst and Cotton Mill Wednesday afternoon organized their delegation of striking women to meet State Labor Commissioner Stanley and ask for his intervention. It is quite probable that it will be brought to his attention during the afternoon or early Thursday morning.

In bringing the strike before the commissioners, the strikers will demand that he tell them the exact conditions in the factory and ask Mr. Stanley to give his services as arbitrator.

The strike grew more serious Wednesday night when a group of seven men of the department walked out through sympathy with the striking weavers. It was reported that hundreds around the mill were hundred others who joined the department after it quit Wednesday afternoon.

Following an effort to organize the union, a union Tuesday afternoon efforts were being made Wednesday to get all of the 1,800 operators in the factory to admit the members of the union to the same conditions.

The strikers also claim that 200 men turned up as members of a union at a meeting on Central Avenue Tuesday afternoon.

So far there has been little concerted action among the strikers. Each person has spoken and acted for himself, and McPherson, who it seems encouraged Fowler to "solidarize," said Mr. Elmer. "I told them we could not consider such a demand, and the interview was ended."

Acknowledged Reintimation.
"They asked me to reintimate an employee named Fowler, who struck Metzger, and I told them that I did not know him, and McPherson, who it seems encouraged Fowler to "solidarize," said Mr. Elmer. "I told them we could not consider such a demand, and the interview was ended."

"We have 10 per cent more employees in the weaving department day by day, and we expect that in a few days we will want to go back to work will be replaced by new employees by the end of the week."

"The trouble is all caused by a few individuals who are leading the others."

After the trial of three of the strikers Wednesday afternoon, Chief Commissioner Stanley before Chief Commissioner G. A. Johnson, general manager of the mills, had used profanity before women employees. Chief Commissioner G. A. Johnson, Monday, notified the company to remain before Commissioner Dories to hear the charges Thursday.

Bond for Accused Striker.

The strikers were held at another court room. There, a striker who was bound over by Recorder Bryson under a $200 bond for interfering with the laborers was released from jail.

Then his friends gathered around him, and many women and men when he returned to the mill village just as the employees were on their way home for the midday meal.

To gain additional strength, leaders of the strikers said that plans were being arranged to burn a building and set it afire late through the village Wednesday afternoon. No one would admit being an active participant in making these plans, all of them denied that they had been involved.

After a conference with Mayor Woodward Wednesday, Chief Commissioner Stanley said he would keep secret in his office section of the city peace. He said the police would not interfere in the least with the efforts of the strikers to secure concessions from the mill owners, but that order must be maintained.

Dr. Shaw opposed the coming of Mrs. Pankhurst to America at this time "because we have on our hands nine campaigns, any one of which is of more importance to the cause of woman suffrage in the world than is the campaign of Mrs. Pankhurst in England," she said.

WILBURN TO PUT BLAME ON WOMAN

On Eve of Trial, Slayer's Attorney Compares Mrs. King With Cleopatra.

MACON, Oct. 22.—When Nick Wilburn, a six-foot 25-year-old farmhand, is placed on trial for his life at Gray, Ga., on Saturday, the defense will move to have him certified as insane. The defense will argue that in killing his former employer, James King, he acted under the hypnotic influence of Mrs. Katherine King, his victim.

"I am going to show the jury," declares Attorney John R. Cooper, "that just as Cleopatra fascinated a great number of men and caused them to throw the world away, so did this woman, the wife of another man, attract and dominate a guiltless and unsuspecting man." Cooper will be further pleased that Mrs. King had threatened Wilburn with the loss of his own life if he did not kill James King. Attorney Cooper's only hope is that the jury will readily confesses to saving Wilburn's neck.

At the trial the jury will recommend him to mercy if he will be satisfied and Wilburn ought to be," says the attorney.

Attorney Cooper, however, maintains Mrs. King, declares he will acquit the woman.

"She was absolutely innocent for whom she at one time had an affair, unlawful though it was," he says, "and only because she was intimidated by threats and promises did she acquit the killing of her husband."

Mr. King's six children, ranging in years from 2 to 16, will be at her trial, which will probably begin Saturday. Only one of the children has been to see her since her confinement in the Jones County Jail.

Dorey Scores a Point.

The Solicitor was instant with his objection to this ruling of the court.

The Solicitor having the privilege of investigating the records on the motion.

Section 10 and 11 dealt with the same subject except that one was in

Prospects for a new trial for Leo M. Frank were made much brighter Wednesday afternoon by Judge Roan's certification of the defense's description of the disorder and demonstration in the courtroom on various occasions during Frank's trial. The judge's official approval of this fact as a ground for argument will give the defense an invaluable advantage when the arguments begin, and also before the Supreme Court in the event that it becomes necessary to carry the fight for Frank's life to the higher tribunal.

The facts to which Judge Roan certified were contained in the defense's charge that immediately on the announcement that Conley's testimony, taken to show perversions and immorality and acts of disloyalty dissociated from the charge of murder, was to stand, there were immediate cheers, clapping of hands and stamping of feet in the courtroom.

Jury In Adjacent Room.

The jurors were in an adjacent room at the time, so close, in the opinion of Judge Roan, as to be able readily to hear the demonstration.

The facts also held that the court was in error when it refused at the time to grant a mistrial for which Attorney Arnold moved, and did not clear the courtroom as was demanded by both the attorneys for the defense.

It was also charged by the defense that during the examination of one of the witnesses the crowd made a jeering demonstration against Attorney Arnold.

Judge Roan certified to all of these facts as represented by the defense, a circumstance which is regarded as most favorable to Frank's chance for a new trial.

Soldier Dorsey won a slight victory when the battle ranged around section 13 of the motion which declared that the Solicitor had continued his cross-examination of witnesses to draw out particular acts of immorality on the part of the pencil factory superintendent when Judge Roan had ruled against such questions. Mr. Dorsey demanded that this particular reference to him in the motion be struck out and it was granted by Judge Roan, after a bitter struggle.

Calls Testimony Prejudicial.

Another point brought up for arraignment by counsel for the defense was the testimony that he had been refused admittance to Frank's cell when taken to the Tower by detectives. Attorney Arnold ascribed this testimony as irrelevant and prejudicial before the jury and declared that the court erred in admitting it.

From that point the fight veered to section 16 of the motion pertaining to the testimony of Mrs. Arthur White, wife of a machinist in the pencil factory. The defense declared that the court erred in permitting the State to draw from the witness the fact that she had not reported the fact that she saw a negro in the factory on the day of the murder until three days later, and then to attorneys for Frank. Attorney Rosser stated that such testimony was a direct reflection on the witness and the defense.

Rosser repeatedly charged Dorsey with quibbling, splitting hairs and on one occasion intimated that the Solicitor was seeking to hang a man "on the dotting of an 'i' or the crossing of a 't'."

No mention had yet been made of the charges of bias and prejudice against Jurors Henslee and Johnenning. The early real parties had to do with errors which the court had committed, according to the contentions of the defense, in letting in certain testimony of Detectives Black and Starnes and Newt Lee and keeping out a part of that of Black.

Conley's testimony became the subject of heated discussion immediately on the reading of the tenth reading of the defense. In this it was argued that the court had been in error in denying the motion to strike the testimony of the defendant on the ground that it was immaterial, irrelevant, illegal and highly prejudicial to Frank.

Dorey Scores a Point.

The Solicitor was instant with his objection to this ruling of the court.

The Solicitor having the privilege of investigating the records on the motion.

Section 10 and 11 dealt with the same subject except that one was in

FRANK LAWYERS ATTACK JURORS POLICE ON GUARD AS MILL STRIKE ENDS

Women Save Children in Fire

EMPLOYEES TO ACCEPT OLD JOBS

Cotton Mill Workers Constitute Offer as Concession—Manager Denies Yielding.

Statement of the strike at the Fallin Bag and Cotton Mills was in sight Thursday morning when a meeting of most of the men who walked out Monday was held in the Temple of Labor, on Trinity avenue. The report was that certain concessions had been offered by the mill authorities and that the strike leaders were insisting that everyone go back to work at noon.

"Our Eliza, president of the mill, said Thursday morning that all the strikers would be back by noon," he said. "She said the mill offered them no concessions from the conditions reigning at the time they called out."

"We called out of the mill over protest," he said. "We didn't put out. I haven't conferred with them out and we haven't kept them informed of the strikes since Tuesday."

"But they can go back to work now."

Special police officers were still on guard around the mill Thursday, despite the fact that the thousands of strikers and the number of hundreds of other employees to join the strikers and the mutterings of some of the very radical leaders that there would be little change in the task of peace. Mr. Elias said that many women who had gone out stayed out purely from fear. They had been told that if they started work again, they would "done badly harm," he said.

Can't Strike Without Food.

Cheif Beavers had mentioned yesterday in the gathering of the leaders at the time when the factories were going in and out. He said he would continue to take every precaution against those to implement and damage to property.

The strikers seemed to lose heart when plans to have a parade through the mill district with a brass band failed. They had tried to gain large numbers to recruit the demonstration. Promises had been made that many other employees would join them. But the men who were organized to do so made up of children concerned that the movement, whatever its merits, was doomed. The women and children wouldn't strike without money for food.

A prominent labor leader of Atlanta who has taken an interest in the cause sized up the situation with the comment that the cold weather was driving the men to strike.

Through City Warden Thomas Evans' office a glimpse into the darkest side of the affair was given. A woman who had been a member of the group appealed to him Wednesday afternoon for help.

"She said she had five children and was a widow, and that only one of her children was old enough to work in the mill. Her mate was required at home to care for the very small child."

The man who had been supporting the family accompanied the mother to the Warden's office. One of the men who had been arrested and the younger was a pale, undeveloped child of uncertain age.

BLAZE PUTS FAMILY IN PERIL

Mother Rushes Back Into Flames to Carry to Safety Forgotten Children.

Physicians worked hard Thursday to save the life of John Kerr, aged 49 years, one of the oldest bellmakers at the Southern Shovel shop, who was overcome by gas while working on a furnace. His condition was discovered early Thursday morning and his抢救ing was noted by other men in the house. He is still in an unconscious condition.

The new asphaltum is believed to be made of the oil of John Davis, with whom he resided, to be an accident and not an attempt at suicide.

John Kerr, 49, of the Davis family, a long-time resident of Atlanta, has been living with his son from a former marriage, a boy now in New York on a visit. She has been notified of his condition.

New Buffalo Nickel Not Counterfeit; Design Only Changed

People who take the new nickels need have no fear of being baffled, for the Indian on the buffalo nickel is an exact copy of the original.

This announcement was made by a local banker to his friends who had been worried over the counterfeit 5-cent pieces of a new Wild West pattern. A new die has been issued at the Philadelphia mint, different from the one which the Denver mint uses.

The difference between the two dies is that the new die has a larger area of earth.

This announcement came at the side of the mouth on the nickels in raised lettering.

In the new design the ridge under the buffalo's feet is narrow, giving his appearance of walking.

The new die was issued to the mint when he arrived and Burke and his wife reached the street. She saw he did not have his children, and with a scream ran back into the burning structure.

HOWARD URGES PROBE OF ATLANTA PRISON

WILL FORCE U.S. PRISON INQUIRY

Congressman Asserts Truth of Accusations Against U. S.

Warden Must Come Out.

Declaring that should the Department of Justice refuse to act on the charges of unfit conditions at the Federal prison, made by Julian Hawthorne and others, he would carry the matter into the National Congress. Congressman William Schley Howard in a statement Thursday reiterated his intention to force a full investigation.

Mr. Howard stated that he would introduce a resolution into Congress upon his return to Washington asking the appointment of a Congressional committee to carry on this investigation. He avowed that this was demanded in justification to humanity, if the charges proved true, and for the exoneration of Warden Moyer, if the accusations are untrue.

Senator Hoke Smith, who made a tour of inspection of the prison Wednesday, refused to make a statement Thursday. He stated that he had formed no opinion so far which he would make public on the sensational allegations, and would not say what his action would be when he returned to Washington.

Warden Blames Guards.

Warden William H. Moyer, who bore the brunt of the attack for his administration of the prison, returned to Atlanta Thursday from Washington, where he had a conference with Attorney General McReynolds.

The warden ascribed the attack to the work of "five or six disgruntled and unprincipled guards and employees who for several months have been trying to break down the administration in order to make vacancies for themselves and their friends."

Mr. Moyer declared that Hawthorne and Dr. Morton should not be censured for their complaints, as, according to his information, they had promised to take this action before they left the prison.

"Every man at the penitentiary who had anything to do with this movement," said the warden, "will have to face charges of insubordination and trying to incite prisoners to mutiny. It is their good fortune that they are not now facing more serious charges than these, but they will face bad enough as it is."

Mr. Howard's statement follows:

Congress Entitled to Truth.

"Reputable people have made charges as to the conduct of the Federal prison. These charges in their character are serious. maltreatment of the prisoners is alleged in that they are not sufficiently fed and that their physical condition is being impaired by the lack of nutritious food and proper medical attention.

"Congress is entitled to the whole truth about the administration of affairs in this institution. If the Department of Justice does not make a full, free and impartial investigation I shall introduce a resolution upon my return to Washington, asking for the appointment of a Congressional committee to visit this prison and ascertain the whole truth. If these men are underfed Congress should know it. If the statements made in the local press are untrue, the public should know it in justice to the warden and other officials in charge.

"If conditions are brought about by insufficient appropriations for subsistence the sooner it is known the better it will be for the men confined. If discipline is lacking the cause for its existence should be determined and speedily corrected, if the most drastic methods have to be resorted to.

"So far as I am concerned, this is all I have to say until I speak with the authority of Congress behind me and those with whom I shall be associated."

COTTON CROP ENRICHING ATLANTA

Bankers Say High Price of Fine Staple Is Responsible for Money Influx.

Conservative bankers declared Thursday that bank deposits at present in Atlanta break all records. They estimated that the day's deposits exceeded all previous records by more than $6,000,000.

With the movement of cotton well under way, indications are that even these figures will be beaten before the end of the week. To-day's record is the second that has been set this week.

Last Monday bank clearings reached the highest mark in the city's history for one day.

The unprecedented deposits is taken by the bankers as an indication of the wave of prosperity sweeping Georgia on the heels of a good cotton crop. The staple is of a better quality than any crop in recent years, and better prices are being paid the farmer, putting more money in circulation as the movement of the crop is carried on.

The bank clearings of Atlanta financial institutions have been setting new marks in the last few weeks. On Monday the clearings reached a high water mark of $4,270,000, a gain of more than $200,000 over the clearings of Saturday, which were $4,031,000 and a record up to that time.

Haynes McFadden, an authority on bank statistics, declared Thursday that $6,000,000 above the record in bank deposits was not an exaggerated estimate.

Georgia's banner cotton crop is bringing a record price and is moving so rapidly that refrigerator cars are actually being pressed into service for the handling of it.

From all over Georgia came glowing reports. In the belief that cotton is going to soar upward to a much higher price, many of the country merchants and farmers are holding to their cotton.

This augurs well for financial conditions, in the opinion of many bankers, as it means a continual and heavy flow of money into Georgia for months to come.

Drops Case When Father of Accused Proves Old Friend

From prosecutor Mrs. W. O. Ballard, No. 406 South Pryor street, was transformed to defender in the Recorder's Court Thursday when she caused S. A. Allen, No. 121 Crew street, an iceman, to be arraigned for kicking her pet fox terrier "Tiny."

"Tiny" was kicked into unconsciousness Wednesday by Allen at Mrs. Ballard's home, where the iceman called. Allen was arrested by Police Officer John West.

When the case was called Thursday J. B. Allen, a grizzled Confederate veteran and for years custodian of the State Capitol, appeared with his son. Mrs. Ballard recognized the aged man as an old friend. Forthwith she asked that the case against the son be dismissed.

Thaw and 4 Indicted For Planning Escape

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The Supreme Court Grand Jury to-day reported a blank indictment charging Harry K. Thaw and four other men with conspiracy in connection with Thaw's escape from Matteawan.

Bench warrants were issued for Thaw and the following four men: Richard Butler, Michael O'Keefe, Roger Thompson and Eugene Duffy. Steele was murdered, reopened the in-

FISHER INDICTED IN DALTON AS SLAYER

Dalton, Oct. 23.—Ira Fisher, the man who produced the latest sensation in the Frank case, was to-day indicted for murder by the Grand Jury in session here.

A bill of indictment charges him with killing his brother-in-law, Dug Steele.

Steele was found dead beside the Southern Railway tracks near the northern limits of Dalton about five years ago. It appeared that a train had passed over him, for his head was cut off and the body mangled, but owing to an absence of blood it was thought he had been killed and placed by the track to hide the crime.

This caused the Coroner's jury to prolong the investigation for several days. A verdict that Steele was killed by a train was finally returned when the Coroner held his inquest. I was relieved by the lack of suspicion at the inquest because I proved by seven or eight people that I had sat up all night with the sick wife of a friend, Cliff Barden, and they swore I had never been out of the house. Steel and I were on the best of terms when he was killed, and had not had a quarrel like the detectives say we had.

One Grand Jury investigated the death, but took no action. The affair was then forgotten until the present Grand Jury, besieged by rumors that Steele was murdered, reopened the investigation and got enough evidence to warrant the indictment of Fisher.

Chief Beavers Thursday received a telegram from the chief of police at Dalton, Ga., asking him to hold Fisher to answer a grand jury indictment there for the murder of his brother-in-law.

Fisher did not appear downcast when he was informed of this indictment. He protested his innocence, and declared the indictment is a plot to imprison him because he accused J. C. Shirley.

"The detectives are the cause of it," he declared. "They have combined against me, and the indictment is nothing but a frame-up. Bud Steel, my brother-in-law, was killed about four years ago. Seven or eight men were under suspicion when the Coroner held his inquest. I was relieved by the lack of suspicion at the inquest because I proved by seven or eight people that I had sat up all night with the sick wife of a friend, Cliff Barden, and they swore I had never been out of the house. Steel and I were on the best of terms when he was killed, and had not had a quarrel like the detectives say we had."

His father followed her a moment later, half strangled by the smoke.

Behind Mr. Cason and the little girl Mrs. Cason struggled bravely, carrying her 2-month-old baby, Richard, whom she snatched from his cradle when she was awakened by the smell of smoke and the glare of the flames. Mrs. Cason's dress was scorched, and both she and the baby were half strangled by the dense smoke.

None of the members of the Cason family were injured. E. M. Bugg,

AFFIDAVITS OFFERED TO SUPPORT CHARGE OF BIASED OPINIONS

The expected attack upon A. H. Henslee and Marcellus Johnenning, jurors of the Frank trial, was launched by the attorneys for Leo M. Frank at the hearing on the motion for a new trial Thursday afternoon in the library of the State Capitol.

The jurors were charged with having expressed before the trial the opinion that Frank was guilty, and it was represented that Frank, therefore, was unable to get a fair and impartial trial.

A score of affidavits were attached as exhibits to bear out the contention of bias. Several of them were submitted to show that Juror Henslee was in Albany, Ga., on a date he specifically had denied being there. It was at Albany that Henslee is alleged to have made denunciatory remarks against Frank.

One of the reasons advanced by the defense to indicate that Frank was unable to obtain a fair and impartial trial was that so great was the apprehension that an outbreak of actual violence to the defendant might take place on the last Saturday of the trial, that

EXPECTA, B. & A. MANAGEMENT SHAKE-UP

President Miller of N. O. & G. N. and Trainload of Officials Off on Inspection Trip.

Humors that a shake-up is imminent in the management of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic road were well circulated in Atlanta circles Wednesday morning following the secret departure of a number of the road's officials headed by Recce Miller, president of the New Orleans and Great Northern Railroad, who also is receiver for the Buffalo and Susquehanna and a prominent Eastern railroad man on an inspection tour of its property.

Considerable secrecy is said to have surrounded the trip, which began Monday, and came quite into Atlanta late Tuesday afternoon and sent on board the train early Wednesday morning. He was joined there by Mr. L. E. Lamb, B. & A. passenger auditor, B. L. Bugs, assistant general manager; H. W. Colson, general claim agent; J. L. Edwards, general traffic agent; and H. C. Cox, general passenger agent. The inspection party will traverse every section of the road to inspect the property, returning to Atlanta Saturday evening.

Runners of Disastrous Rumors

Rumors that certain Eastern holdouts of A. B. & A. bonds, including the New York Central and the Penn, which is said to be directly responsible for the present trip, are easily traced to the fact that the management of the road, have been in touch with the bondholders for several weeks. These rumors have been intensified by the statement that no bondholders' meeting was made and it is said that such a meeting will be held when the bondholders' report to the bondholders, strenuous times may be anticipated.

This is the second trip over the road since the bondholders' report several days ago came to Atlanta at a time when the bondholders had spent several days going over the property. His report never mentioned the name of Mr. Edward E. T. Lamb was appointed to conduct the inspection tour. Another coincidence also is that Mr. Lamb, shortly before his appointment to the inspection tour, had been in touch with the bondholders' committee on inspection of the road for Eastern.

Likelihood of Change Denied

Prominent officials of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic road, who did not make the trip, denied Wednesday that any changes would be made in the management of the road, and declared that the inspection tour was purely a formality.

"So far as we know," said Edward A. B. & A. general manager, "the trip the officials of the road are now nothing more than a routine inspection tour that is often made."

Georgia Maps Out Plan of Battle Secret Work Starts To-morrow

A THENS, GA., Oct. 22.—The first rank from the world of the press have started work on the battle plan to be followed yesterday afternoon, where Cunningham, Ketron and Peacock are planning a campaign that will be war to the death. The meeting will be held next Saturday, when Georgia and the eleven from the Old Dominion meet on the gridiron for the first time since 1908.

A light skirmish with the variety on the part of the press was made after the afternoon's offering along with a long signal drill. Two complete teams took the field, one team consisting of the signal running one and Flournoy the other. The signal running team's practice was the fine defense works of Legion at half. The players to prove effective at advancing the ball were the two teams, and if it proves effective at advancing the ball will be in Atlanta. Both Carey and Crump were on the sideline for the work-out, one with his arm in a sling and the other with his side in a brace cast.

Negro Speed Demons Will Race at Local Motordrome To-day

Negro drivers will have their at the local drome this afternoon. The colored population of Atlanta is expected to turn out in force to see the track in breakneck speed.

The colored boys will defend the honors of the local colored community by racing the Negroes of Chattanooga, and Willie McRae, of Chattanooga, and Eddie Williams, of Atlanta, are to be the stars.

The colored ones are out to win, just like he was at the local speedway some time ago. The colored boys will do their best to keep his hard-luck streak and that this afternoon they will be the stars.

The colored drivers are confident that the prize money that is being offered will be won by them.

They are after the first prize and will be satisfied with it.

AUBURN BACKS PLAYED POORLY IN TIGER GAME

But Coach Donahue Is Getting His Men in Condition for Saturday's Big Battle.

By Mike Owen, Auburn Eleven.

A LTHOUGH Georgia does not concur in the judgment of the press concerning the battle between the two schools, yet she will be satisfied if the Virginians are held to two touch-downs and the other eleven from the Classic City who does not believe to get away with a touch-down to start the ball at half.

Starting to-morrow, the gates to Saturday's game will be open to spectators except the students and identified friends of the team.

It will be difficult for a number of Georgia students and others to attend the game, as the stadium has been chartered to carry the Red and Black Rooters to Atlanta.

The Georgia game is the custom, and this means that some 500 students will be present to support the Athens citizens who will be in Atlanta to support their team.

Both Carey and Crump were on the sideline for the work-out, one with his arm in a sling and the other with his side in a brace cast.

Vandy May Use New Defense Formation In Michigan Game

NASHVILLE, TENN., Oct. 22.—After the valuable experience of the Clemson trip the Auburn team is now showing itself in the contest with the Georgia Tech.

The Tech decided to stand in the S. I. A. line. The backfield men, who had been working so well, did very poorly against Clemson. The strange field and the new style of play made it hard for the backs to be head, finally ended by entirely disorganized them. Not enough variety was used in selecting plays on the field, and the Tech played hard and fought hard, they did it bindly and with no judgment at all.

Now the only back the team never lost its confidence in him and on some of the runs gave him big beautiful bursts, which bright spots of Auburn's ranged out.

The defense of the Clemson Tigers was playing like a bunch of rookies. Playing on their own grounds, they were given many more defeat to as they did nothing but make mistakes on the campus. The home team could not visit the stadium where an hour was devoted to a signal drill and instruction.

Particular attention was paid to the experience of the Clemson game and with a little polishing up a week, Auburn ought to be in good condition to meet the Tech.

Hasten, former Virginia Military Institute coach, who is assisting McDougal with the linemen, labored with the big green gang, drilling them in blocking, some and Putnam, the guard, and safety in for a while, lecture and instruction.

Saturday was extremely disappointing, as the Auburn backfield and defense backs were charging the line.

Now the question is what to do in the Michigan game, which will present a new formation for the defense. The Tech will be in the center in the rush line and shifting back and forth from the right end to backing up the line.

Tackle Tom Brown. Thus the line will be in the middle, and when it can back, while Captain Brown will move to the right, the secondary defense, where Morgan will be making the major portion of his tackle.

The sentiment of the Vanderbilt fans is that the game will be decided by the Vandy machine by not more than two touchdowns and several bets have been registered based on those odds.

SLATON CALLED PACIFICATOR BY W. J. HARRIS

Says Georgia House Delegation Favors Congressman Underwood for U. S. Senate.

W. J. Harris, Director of the Census in Atlanta Thursday, sang the praises of Oscar Underwood, or Judge John C. Hart and of Governor Slaton. Of course, Harris has a personal interest, for he has been a member of the Georgia delegation to the Senate, and has something to do with it.

"In terms of the highest appropriation, with regard to the administration of Governor Slaton, he deserves the title of 'pacifier'."

The most important matter, he thought, was the re-opening of the Western and Atlantic.

"I am not so sure that we have nothing to do with it.

"Governor Slaton has entirely fulfilled the forecast we made at Mason's last year when I said he would be devoted to the welfare of Georgia, and not Governor of a factory."

The most important matter, the development of which is the re-opening of the Western and Atlantic, is to be left to the State of Georgia, which is the greatest problem that Governor Slaton has.

"How about Mr. Underwood?" Harris asked.

The Georgia delegation, one of the ablest in the House and for many years the most influential in Congress, are almost a unit for Mr. Underwood. As leader of the minority in the House, Mr. Underwood has done more than any other man to keep the whole country in an atmosphere of stability and value added by the administration.

Mr. Underwood's speech of last night made all the administration but him glad.

He had made all the necessary arrangements for his election as senator, and he went to work on the case.

U. S. READY TO INTERVENE IN MEXICO IF TROUBLE ATTENDS VOTING SUNDAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Fearing anti-American outbreaks during the Mexican election scheduled for Sunday, the American government has made preparations for an early intervention in Mexico should this become necessary. Both the army and navy are in such a position that they can be moved quickly and with the least possible loss of efficiency.

In addition to the three dreadnoughts now anchored off Vera Cruz with their gun crews trained to fire, the European crew of the Atlantic fleet, which is scheduled to begin Saturday, has given the Government an excuse to call and fully mobilize the naval forces along the coast.

The Wyoming, Utah, Florida, Arkansas, Delaware, Connecticut, Vermont, Kansas and Ohio will steam out of Hampton Roads Saturday morning.

Big Ships in Call.

The big ships will be joined by all speed, by men with expert telegraphic skill, as well as with easy wireless communication with Washington three days after sailing. It is anticipated that the anti-Americanists, if there are any who will take place either Sunday or Monday, and it would be the work of less than an hour to change the name of the port and send a file ase to fighting ports south and the gulf, where with the assistance of the division now quartered at Hampton Roads and Charlestown, S. C., the coast line must be in safe hands of American troops.

In addition to these nine vessels, nine destroyers have been sent to the New York, New Jersey, Rhode Island and Nebraska ready to Norfolk for their departure on Sunday morning about 25. The dreadnoughts are coaled and provisioned constantly if necessary. This division of the fleet is intended to represent the maximum force available in New Hampshire, which have been called up.

In event of trouble, however, his trio of battleships would remain at sea to protect the coast and sailors to protect American property.

Army Ready, Too.

The preparations of the army for intervention have been completed in case of need. To "relieve" the Second and Fifth Regiments of cavalry, which have been in the border for several years, General Grant has ordered the Third and Fourth to the border. No date has been set for the transfer, but orders have been issued to the regiments to remain in the border until they received orders to remain in marching time.

In addition to this, the Government has 5,000 troops at Texas City, Tex., while the 10th Cavalry and 10th Infantry are being concentrated at the coast of the navy, to relieve the Second and Fifth Regiments of cavalry, which have been in the border for several years. General Grant has ordered the Third and Fourth to the border. No date has been set for the transfer, but orders have been issued to the regiments to remain in the border until they received orders to remain in marching time.

The return of Diaz has been a severe blow to his followers. He seems to be completely converted to the movement of Huerta. He apparently is in deadly fear of assassination, and has withdrawn from public life, but his guards accompany him everywhere.

The political suite of the returning presidential candidate was arrested yesterday, and the military command, three of whom are army officers. Nine are accused of disloyalty to the country, and were charged with plotting to assassinate President Porfirio Díaz.

All were remanded at dawn from the barracks where they were imprisoned overnight to the gauntlet Zaragoza.

F. Diaz Put Under Arrest By Huerta.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

VERA CRUZ, Oct. 22.—Ferdinand Diaz, ex-president of Mexico, was arrested today. Two guards were stationed at the door of his brother's home, where he spent the night, and he was warned that any attempt to escape would result in his capture. Huerta government would result in his being thrown into jail.

But here is a perfect substitute for calomel which the druggist does guarantee. It is safe, effective and economical. All druggists will refund your money without question if you are not satisfied.

Go to any druggist whom you are satisfied with and ask for Dodson's Liver Tonic. You will find that the great number of people who are taking this remarkable remedy and finding it safe and effective are better able to enjoy life than those who have taken calomel.

Why? Because calomel is poison, and that may stay in the system, and when it does, it may do harm, not only, may do harm in the end. You don't feel these effects so far, it is because they are not strong enough to have a strong constitution, though.

Great Mystery--How Are They Able to Play Football Without a National Commission?

MAJOR LEAGUE BALL PLAYERS PLAN REVOLT

Eighty-five Per Cent of Players Agree to Hold Out Until After Commission Meets.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—There is danger of an open revolt by the members of the ball players' fraternity against the club during the winter when the commission to run and referee the major leagues—something like 85 per cent of the members of the fraternity signed a pledge not to do business with their present employer until after the meetings of the National Commission held in December.

It is understood that the fraternity will submit a number of demands to the commission, and that a scale of salaries will be demanded.

This is only bring about a serious state of affairs, but the players have determined to stop playing for the club or the demands they are to make before the winter begins will be submitted to the club, but, personally, I don't think there is a chance for work," said one of the leaders of the good grounds for some of the changes in the game which the players demand are granted, but it stands to reason the players can not dictate.

Other clubs, however, may have no kick coming. They are not bound by the same contract as for a general rule, even if they refuse to give their organization recognition.

WE all know that the players have entered into a pledge not to work until after the big leagues have met, and the players are to meet the demands they are to make before the winter begins will be submitted to the club, but, personally, I don't think there is a chance for work," said one of the leaders of the good grounds for some of the changes in the game which the players demand are granted, but it stands to reason the players can not dictate.

Those footballers are cripes, they are dogs, they are not like the words, and these are not like the words, and a man can roar a thousand.

Clark Griffith refuses to allow one or two of his players to play in the world tour, Clark intends to let a ball team revamp—not a hospital.

It is rather easy for people to do this, but it is a popular pastime that has been.

Hereafter the National Commission will handle the post-season series in St. Louis, but why not the Board of Health?

Tech Coach Reviews Saturday's Big Gridiron Battles HEISMAN SIZES UP THE FOOTBALL SITUATION

By J. W. Heisman

L. C. Hartman I journeyed up to Chattanooga to see for myself just what kind of a ball team the Volunteers could put on the field. Their records were poor. Mountain Tigers had won only one game.

They had much fine material, but their forwards did not seem to me to charge as those of Sewanee.

Mountain Tigers were encouraged by the number and variety of rosters so they did not lack for inspiration.

Their backs were not as high as Sewanee's, and so, for that matter, was their morale. They did not dare make quite as much fun out of their backs as we did.

Well, both teams were big, all right.

They must weigh well over 100 pounds each, and the two push lines seemed about on a par, but Hartman was not so sure.

The Athenians have clearly made big strides during the past week or two, and I am sure they are going to do well.

It is likely Auburn will open up.

It is also likely that the team is becoming stronger along more slowly than the Mountain Tigers in this regard.

I can understand that I can not undertake a guess as to whether they did well or ill.

If Vandy were to be called upon right now, I would say that they were not as strong as Auburn, and therefore to do as well again.

As far as Auburn is concerned, I argue an advance during the past month.

It was a role or two overdone before the game, and then the fact that the backfield had been held back.

It is the same with the backfield.

ELIS' SHOWING IN LEHIGH GAME BIG SURPRISE

Yale To Be In Fight for Top Honors, Despite a Wail of Laughter From New Haven.

By J. W. McConaughay.

THE coaches at Yale are danting over the result of Saturday's game with New Haven. In the past ten years the coaches systolemically found that the score would be about 1 to 3, with a good deal of doubt as to which team would be the winner.

Or, rather, no one else is especially astonished, excepting, probably, the coaches of Lehigh, who ought to have known better, but seemingly did not. It was sally and frenetic, but also aimless, and it was shown in Yale lineups in little pieces; that there was considerable doubt about certain plays, and that the field.

Then, too, the coaches were not at all sure that the Yale players were working. Cornish, the quarterback, was eliminated from the tale of woe, but he had been so bad that he would not likely be used in this game.

Lehigh, on the other hand, was unusually strong this fall, and having been beaten only once in the last three reports, most of the underlings body of Lehigh had moved into a new era of triumph and radiance.

The coaches, however, demonstrate that some of the smaller colleges still believe what they read in the newspapers, and that they are not to be trusted, as given out for publication by the Yale coaches, that the Yale team will be in the hunt as usual next month.

There are a number of features that the coaches could not conceal from the public. One of these was the playing of Brann at left end. He has been comparatively unheard of during the season, but he has been working.

The celebrated Mr. Ketcham, who has been shifted from center to quarterback, has been a disappointment to the judgment of the experts. There was never any question but that Mr. Ketcham is a midget, but he has been afflicted with an uncomforatable desire to wrangle himself into the position of center, and as come with his grace, contrived to make the status made all the more ridiculous.

Then, too, the coaches have

The Value of Good Character--- An Incident and a Lesson

It Should Avail a Man Much in His Hour of Peril. Governor Slaton Has Turned an Act of Executive Duty to a Commendable Purpose.

The recent commutation of the death sentence of George Oliver, a negro convicted of murder in DeKalb County, is a matter of more than passing importance.

In that commutation Governor Slaton has succeeded in writing a lesson that everybody may profit by considering.

It is a simple old lesson as old as the hills—but it has not yet been learned by all men!

Oliver, a negro of previous good character, killed, upon the impulse of the moment, another negro. Oliver was not himself at the moment of the crime, but the cold record of the trial made out a case of murder, pure and simple, and the jury found accordingly.

The case was not appealed to the Supreme Court, for there was no apparent error of law therein, but an appeal direct to the Governor for clemency was made.

Presenting the plea were a hundred or so of the white acquaintances—the neighbors—of the negro under sentence of death. The white jury that convicted him asked the Governor's mercy—and every plea was based upon one isolated proposition,

PREVIOUS GOOD CHARACTER OF LONG STANDING!

In commuting the death sentence, Governor Slaton said:

"The negro is a charge upon the conscience and thought of the Southern white men. Among them he finds his best friends, and all that is demanded of him is good behavior and a recognition of his position. What a dramatic emphasis is placed upon the value of good character by this appeal for clemency by stern, law-enforcing men, whom neither money nor power could influence!"

"They say the defendant was hardworking, law-abiding, peace-loving, obedient, and they pleaded a life of good conduct as against the impulse of a moment that menaces him with the gallows."

"The lesson of good character!

It should avail a man much in his hour of peril—a negro man not less than a white man.

Capital punishment is abhorrent to many people in any event; it would be doubly abhorrent in a case like that of Oliver!

Governor Slaton has turned an act of executive duty to a commendable purpose!

Alarm Over Our Ship Tariff

If foreign nations do not feel alarmed at the prospective diminution of their shipping in our trade, as a result of the 5 per cent discount of the duty on imports in American vessels, provided in the new tariff, why do they protest so vehemently and threaten reprisals so truculently?

A number of American newspapers have published extensive European cablegrams showing the apprehension caused in foreign shipping circles, on account of the enactment of this provision.

The records of the State Department also show that even before the tariff bill passed the House representatives of foreign governments had filed protests with our Government, alleging that the subsection was against their interests and violative of treaties.

If the 5 per cent discount provision is hurtful to foreign shipping, as a number of foreign newspapers, doubtless reflecting the views of the officers of their governments, so frankly admit, will it not be correspondingly HELPFUL TO AMERICAN SHIPPIING?

Based upon our dutiable imports of 1912, a maximum reduction in customs revenue of nearly eleven million dollars is possible, if all such imports come here in American vessels or in foreign vessels the goods in which are entitled to the same discount as imports in American vessels enjoy. Is it conceivable, with so large a leverage in favor of ships whose imports are entitled to the minimum duties, and with importers all keen and alert to effect their share of this saving on customs dues, that the favored ships will not enjoy a very substantial advantage in competition with foreign ships whose imports will be subject to the full tariff duties?

These suggestions and queries are offered to those American newspapers that editorially contend that the 5 per cent discount will be of no benefit to American shipping, but whose news columns explain that it will cause great injury to foreign shipping. Either the statements in their news columns are untrue, or else the editorial view of the effect of the discount is erroneous, but if the latter be correct, why, then, all the bitter opposition to the discount?

STARS AND STRIPES

Not at a Spanish midnight because the bulb was too small. Quite understand it was because of nothing more than a celebration of some sort. Martians football vise.

It is awfully rude of Huerta to ignore "the boy with girl's sister." That toy must have had his mind set on a certain mother.

Zulu Prince says American football is too rough for his people. A good elephant hunt now, or something right along that.

Cossacks men hold up grouses because the birds have feathers on them. What do they want—a grouse in skin underwear?

Spanish fans are paying $10 a set for a pair. They are a farce performance. Presumably they'd dig up $1000 for a grandstand stand at the horseshows.

Dynamite Big Aid in Fertilizing Farms

Europe Is Beginning to Imitate America in This Method of Cultivating Soil and Disclosing Hidden Riches of Earth.

By GARRETT P. SERVISS

THE Swiss farmers have taken a hint from America and are beginning to plow up the soil and stimulate its productivity with dynamite, after the fashion of those whom they still call Yankees.

Old World Just Learning of Dynamite as Aid to Tilling the Soil.

We on this side of the ocean have known for some time that it is an excellent method of breaking up hard soil and making worn-out land astonishingly fertile, and now they are learning the truth in the Old World.

They have set about it very systematically in Switzerland, under the lead of the Federal Department of Agricultural Chemistry, and they have obtained results which fill them with enthusiasm. The cultivation of fruit trees has been their first care, and they are delighted to find that this Yankee notion of shaking the earth awake works like a charm. Trees planted in soil prepared by dynamite explode faster and produce much more fruit and produce much more fruit than those standing on land cultivated in the old way.

The explanation is plain and easy. The fertility of the soil—which is mostly nothing but disintegrated rock worn and resting upon the hard skull of the earth—depends upon certain chemical elements that nourish the life of plants. Some of these elements are soon exhausted by the plants, where crop rapidly succeeds crop, and thus constant manuring is required to keep the land in productive condition. A portion of the plant food is washed away by rains or buried deep in the soil, beyond the reach of plows and cultivators.

At a certain depth, below the level on which the plants grow, there is often an accumulation of valuable chemical elements that the roots of plants cannot attain.

No Plow Goes Deep Enough to Destroy Rock-Like Layer.

No plow can go so deep, and if it did it could not break up the hard, rock-like layers which are full of unused nourishment. But a dynamic cartridge skillfully exploded two or three feet below the top of the ground causes an instantaneous overturning of the soil and a releasing of its chemical energies.

The Swiss experiments, conducted previously in America in shoveling the earth apart and exploding them simultaneously by electricity a large space of ground may be thoroughly broken up and the soil completely triturated in an instant.

Ground Thus Prepared Possesses Great Power of Fertility.

Ground that is thus prepared possesses more than ordinary fertility, because not only is a greater depth of soil filled with nourishing elements, brought into action to feed the plants, but the explosion causes dispositions of virgin layers that were never before broken up into soil brings a fresh store of plant food into use. Then, too, it has been shown that the greater degree of freedom which the explosion reduces the particles of earth is an important master, since it results in the freeing of chemical elements, even from soil that is regarded as worn out, that the usual methods of cultivation do not reach.

The Swiss experiments, conducted previously in America in shoveling the earth apart and exploding them simultaneously by electricity a large space of ground may be thoroughly broken up and the soil completely triturated in an instant.
